NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

We attended the West Texas Press Association summer convention in Abilene over the weekend and had the opportunity to hear some very good programs on a variety of important subjects.

One of the speakers on Friday was Jim Harwell, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission. He pointed out a fact to us that will make you sit up and take notice. He said that everyday there are industries in this state looking for a place to light.

This we realized, but then Harwell said that they're driving through your town and looking you over.

One can only wonder what type of impression we create in the minds of strangers who drive through Hamlin looking for a place to locate an industry. And this is more than just the visual impression we make—it also concerns what type of impression we as individuals make on the people passing through. Are we proud of our town or do the people who come in contact with these strangers create an image of dissatisfaction.

If you were driving through Hamlin and stopped to visit would you get an impression of a community that you would want to move your business to?

One thing that Harwell pointed out was that a high percentage of the industrial growth of many communities was not new industries moving in but local industries expanding. He said that while you need to work on attracting new industry to your town, you also need to look around at what you already have and see if you can not help it grow and expand.

We were happy to see Coach Bill Grissom receive both the McMurry Exes Track Coach of the Year award and the Texas Sportswriters Track Coach of the Year honor. We know that he is quite proud of the honors and we are pleased for him.

He also is sporting a new ring this week. Coaches who win state championships, as Bill did, are presented rings signifying this honor at the Texas High School Coaching School just completed in Dallas.

During this session in Dallas the coaches of this district picked Hamlin to win the district race in football and have them projected to beat Denver City in Bi-District but fall to Alpine in Regional.

It is a rather strange feeling to find Hamlin rated up this way. Now the only problem is to prove the coaches right about the first 11 games and wrong about the 12th one.

For those of you that have been keeping up with the pro-football career of Hamlin's Robert (Bob) Pearce, you will be glad to know that he has finally had his dream come true.

Ever since Pearce was abandoned by the Minnesota Vikings in 1969, and found a home in Saskatchewan with the Roughriders, he has had a nagging desire to play quarterback, a position he filled in college.

After playing defense back and wide receiver for the club over the years, he was finally handed the ball by coach John Payne against the Winnipeg Blue Bombers July 23. The Riders won 22-13 with Pearce catching one touchdown pass, running for another touchdown and booming a 51-yard single.

Pearce has now been named backup quarterback for the Riders, behind veteran Ron Lancaster.

We ran across a new diet that seems to be making the rounds of column writers around the state.

This is a low calorie diet that is said to end all diets. And we guarantee that the meat shortage, and high

Mrs. B. V. Newberry, former Jones County Demonstration Agent, mentioned this week that she has received many requests for vegetable freezing procedures.

We are using this column to pass along these suggestions and urge homemakers to clip this information for future reference.

"Freezing is one of the simplest and fastest methods of preserving foods at home," Mrs. Newberry said. It keeps the natural color, fresh flavor, and food values of most fruits, vegetables and meats better than other methods of food preservation.

Five points to success in freezing foods she said are good quality, careful preparation, proper packaging, loading of freezer and length of storage.

Frozen food undergoes slow changes in storage and will not retain its quality indefinitely. The length of time that frozen products may keep without loss of quality depends on: proper handling before freezing, packaging material used, storage temperature and kind of food stored.

Frozen food should not be stored too long. Fruits and vegetables should be stored one year or less; fresh pork and fish, 3 to 6 months; poultry, 6 months; sausage and ground meats, 1 to 3 months; lamb and veal, 6 to 9 months and beef, 6 to 12 months.

She gives instructions for several garden vegetables.

FREEZING SNAP BEANS

Select only fresh, tender young beans. Wash, cut or snap off the tips, and sort for size.

Freeze small beans whole if desired. Cut larger beans into 1 or 2-inch pieces. Put beans in blanching basket, lower basket into boiling water, and cover. Keep the heat on high and begin counting heating time immediately: Small beans—2 minutes; Medium beans—3 minutes; Large beans—4 minutes.

Plunge basket of heated beans into ice cold water, about the same length of time as for heating. When beans are cool, remove from water and drain. Pack into moisture-vapor-proof container. Leave ½-inch headspace. Label container with name of vegetable and date. Freeze immediately and store at 0 degrees F. or below.

SWEET CORN

Select ears with plump, tender kernels and thin, sweet milk. If the milk is thick and starchy, it is better to freeze corn as cream-style.

Whole Grain Style — Husk, silk, trim and wash. Heat in boiling water 4 minutes. Cool, cut kernels from cob at about two-thirds the depth of the kernels. Package and freeze immediately.

Cream Style — Husk, silk, trim and wash. Heat in boiling water 4 minutes. Cool, cut kernel tips once or twice no deeper than the center of the kernels. Scrape the cobs with back of knife to remove the juice and heart of the kernel. Package and freeze immediately.

On-the-Cob — Husk, silk, trim, wash and sort ears according to size. Heat in boiling water — Small ears (up to 1¼ inches in diameter)—7 minutes. Medium ears (1¼ to 1½ inches in diameter)—9 minutes. Large ears (over 1½ inches in diameter)—11 minutes. Cool and drain. Pack ears into containers or wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material. Freeze immediately.

SUMMER SQUASH

Use young squash with small seeds and tender rind. Wash and cut in ½-inch slices.

Heat in boiling water — 3 minutes. Cool, drain, package and freeze immediately.

BLACK EYED PEAS

Select well-filled pods with tender peas. Wash, shell and sort according to size. Heat in boiling water — Small peas—3 minutes; Medium peas—4 minutes. Cool, drain, package and freeze immediately.

OKRA

Select young, tender, green pods. Wash and sort according to size. Cut off stems in such a way as not to cut open seed cells. Heat in boiling water — Small pods—3 minutes; Large pods—4 minutes. Cool and drain. Leave whole or slice crosswise. Package and freeze immediately.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FIFTY YEARS AGO (August 10, 1923)

Once again the Hamlin business men or a part of them spent another pleasant hour in company with a few of the good farmers of the Hamlin country last Tuesday. The Luncheon Day lunch was at the Morgan Hotel and the entire affair was very enjoyable. There were about 60 plates served. The Club had other distinguished guests besides the farmers. They were our County Agricultural Agent, Mr. S. A. Palmer of Anson and Clyde Daniel, Secretary of the Jones County Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

Dr. L. P. McCrary writes from Bremond that he will be at home and in his office, Saturday, Aug. 11. He has been on the road for several weeks in the interest of Central Nazarene College.

TWENTY YEARS AGO (August 14, 1953)

Hamlin Schools will start Tuesday, Sept. 8 for the 1953-54 term, as announced this week by Superintendent I. R. Huchingson. Information about student registration will be announced within a few days by school officials.

Parallel parking along South Central Avenue will be inaugurated within the next several weeks, it was announced this week by Hamlin city officials. Although the parallel parking measure was adopted by the City Council several days ago, it will be several weeks before the change-over from the angle head-in parking along the thoroughfare's curbing can be made by city employees, city officials pointed out to the Herald.

Only routine business matters are expected to come before the monthly business session of the Hamlin City Council, according to Mayor B. M. Brundage.

The 198 parking meters in use in Hamlin since May, 1951, now belong to the city. Final payment on the meters was made a few days ago, city officials stated Wednesday. The meters, costing about $65 each, have brought in more than $25,000 in revenue since they were installed.

A serious accident was averted a few days ago when an oil field worker's truck was damaged as the old bridge five miles north of the Hitson community gave way.

TEN YEARS AGO (August 8, 1963)

The annual high school Summer

Band School will begin here Monday, Aug. 19, and will run for two weeks, according to an announcement made this week by Tim Jones, band director. Mr. Jones invited any new high school students that have moved to Hamlin during the summer that are interested in being in the band this fall to take part in the summer band.

The Hamlin Rebels won their tournament this weekend by defeating Robert Lee, 5-4. In the semi-final the Rebels beat Roscoe 10-0, Snyder beat the Hamlin Scrubs 11-1, Hamlin beat Hermleigh 8-5 and Robert Lee beat Abilene 8-2.

Five girls from the First Baptist Church are attending Youth Camp at the Baptist Encampment at Lueders this week. They were accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Lenard Hartley. The group left Monday afternoon and will return Thursday. The girls are Carolyn and Marolyn Reynolds, Elizabeth Cunningham, Christy Wallace and Mary Lois Patterson.

The Campfire Swimming Camp will be held here Monday through Thursday for all Hamlin Campfire and Bluebird girls. The swimming session will be taught by three qualified instructors assisted by five local girls who have passed their junior life saving rank.

And What Have You

price of groceries, or the high price of gasoline will not affect anyone on this diet.

Monday you get weak tea for breakfast, one bouillon cube in a half cup water for lunch, and one pigeon thigh and three ounces of prune juice for supper.

Tuesday, you can have scraped crumbs from burnt toast for breakfast, one doughnut hole for lunch, and three grains of cornmeal, broiled for supper.

Wednesday, for breakfast it's one egg shell crushed, the belly button of a navel orange for lunch, and bee's knees and mosquito knuckles for the evening meal.

Thursday, it's a shredded egg shell for breakfast, one-half dozen poppy seeds for lunch, three diced Irish potato eyes for supper.

Friday is fish day and you start off at breakfast with two lobster antennae, one tail joint of a sea horse for lunch, and broiled guppy file for supper . . . and it gets worse as the weeks wear along.

The author of the diet states that a seven ounce glass of steam may be consumed on alternate days to help in having something to blow off.

Neinda Philosopher Tries to Operate With Memos Like They Do In Washington

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One has been watching the Watergate hearings again, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:

As I understand the operation of government in Washington after listening to a lot of the Watergate hearings, nearly everything is done by memos and logs.

That is, if you leave your office a secretary writes it down in a log, and when you get to somebody else's office his secretary writes that down in her log. If anything happens at such a meeting you leave, get logged, return to your office where you're logged back in, and then dictate a memo, either to your superior, to a co-equal, to an underling, or, if you can't think of anybody else, to yourself.

All these memos are then filed away and at the end of the year are counted I guess and the one with the most wins.

I got to thinking, how would such a system work out here on this Johnson grass farm? I tried it for a day and it went like this:

7 a.m.: thought about getting up. 7:45 a.m.: got up. 8 a.m.: breakfast conference. 9 a.m.: logged self out the back door, noticed a flat on my tractor, wrote a memo to have it fixed. 9:15 a.m.: read newspaper. 10:30 a.m.: examined tractor, noticed tire still flat, wrote a back-up memo to have it fixed. 10:35 a.m.: logged self back in the house to get a drink of water. 11 a.m.: had telephone call. Told banker I had no recollection of signing note. John Dean must have done it. 11:30 a.m.: recessed for lunch. 12:30 to 2 p.m.: nap. 2:15 p.m.: wrote memo on plans for next day's work. 3:45 p.m.: coffee break. Reviewed international and domestic situations with fellow coffee-drinkers. Wrote memo deploring both. Read newspaper. Discovered an article saying perjury before an investigating committee can cost $2,000 in fine for every case. Figured government can net 14 million dollars at least just from the Watergate witnesses. 5:30 p.m.: logged self back into house, listened to evening news. 6 p.m.: supper conference. 7 to 9 p.m.: watched re-runs. 9:15 p.m.: shredded memos, went to bed. Dreamed government was in as bad a shape as this farm.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Melvin Green Receives His Naval Wings

CORPUS CHRISTI — Navy Ensign Melvin C. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Green of McCaulley, was designated a Naval Aviator and received his "Wings of Gold" during ceremonies here.

He completed more than a year of intensive ground and inflight training and will now be assigned to specialized advanced training.

Mark Ballew of Pasadena, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ballew, returned home Sunday with his father, Kenneth Ballew, after visiting here for a month.

Follow The Signs

Imagine yourself in a train depot in a foreign country, and the signs are in a language unfamiliar to you. You know that the signs are there to direct you, and you try to figure them out, but despite your best efforts you are not sure of your interpretation. The natural thing to do then, is to check with an attendant and have him explain things to you.

The Bible is a sign given to us, and directs us in a pathway of living. Interpreting these directions is not always easy, so the natural thing to do, should be to seek someone to help us. Our churches have many trained personnel who are familiar with the language of the Bible. Attend Church this week and follow God's way of life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Rogues' Gallery

Arrested on a charge of gambling, Greg was tried and found not guilty. Later he learned that the police were including his photograph in a public "rogues' gallery," open to inspection by victims of crime.

Greg hastened back into court, this time as a plaintiff. He demanded that the police remove his picture from the gallery, even though they might still consider him a suspicious character.

And the court ordered the police to do just that. Citing Greg's right of privacy, the court said: "A visitor (to the gallery) might conclude that all the pictures were of criminals. This is not a pleasant thought for one conscious of his innocence."

Most courts agree, frowning on undue publicity given to a person who has been cleared of a criminal charge. Nonetheless, privacy like all legal rights—has its limits.

Another complaint was filed by a man who had been acquitted of receiving stolen property. He wanted the police to remove his photograph and fingerprints from their private files.

But this time, the court said no. The court said keeping good records is a key to effective police work, adding:

"An accurate identification system may be an assistance not only in finding the guilty criminal but in clearing an innocent suspect."

A different aspect of the problem arose in a homicide case, when the defendant objected to evidence that some years earlier he had been convicted of manslaughter. He said he had already paid his debt to society, and was therefore entitled—under the privacy doctrine—to keep his past a closed book.

But the court ruled that his past could be reopened, because a second offense is more serious than a first offense.

"One who has been convicted of crime (forfeits) whatever right of privacy he may have possessed," said the court, "to the extent that the protection of society requires such forfeiture."

Federal Land Association Hikes Rates

Joe Harper, Manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Haskell, announced today that the billing rate of Federal Land Bank farm and ranch variable interest rate loans is being increased from 7 percent to 7 1/2 percent effective August 1, 1973. The rate on rural residence loans is being increased from 7 1/2 percent to 8 1/4 percent. The variable interest rate loan plan which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, lets the rate "float" over the variations in the money market.

"Continued high interest rates in the money market have made it necessary for the Bank to take this action. Interest rates have risen rapidly since early 1973 and the Bank has delayed action until this time in order to determine whether or not these rate increases were temporary," Harper stated. The Bank recently marketed an issue of bonds which sold at an average effective cost of 7.6 percent. "It now appears that present interest levels will probably not change materially until the end of the year," Harper stated.

Caught In the Maze of How to Handle 'Miracle' Fabrics? Here's Helpful Guide

When you consider "miracle" fabrics, there is some good news . . . some bad.

First the good news: Thanks to these fabrics, we enjoy better-fitting, longer-lasting clothes.

Now the bad: Thanks to these same fabrics, doing laundry isn't as simple as it used to be.

Just a few short years ago, silk, wool and cotton made up the laundry bundle. Today, synthetic fabrics probably account for the bulk of most laundry loads. And they require more specialized laundry care to reduce the amount of ironing needed and to remove stubborn stains and soil.

But because there are so many new and different synthetic fabrics on the market today, it's often difficult to tell one from the other. For this reason, the following definitions of fabric terms should come in handy:

Permanent Press, Durable Press — Fabrics chemically-treated to resist wrinkles better. Require no pressing if properly machine-washed and tumble-dried.

Wash and Wear — Fabrics needing little or no ironing. Chemically-treated, but not as long-lasting as permanent press. Usually should be drip-dried.

Drip-Dry — They dry smoothly without ironing. Must not be tumble-dried but removed from washer before final spin. Drip-dry on hanger.

Single Knit — One layer of fabric with interlocked yarns. Two-way stretch.

Double Knit — Two interlocked layers of yarn for more body and resiliency than single knit.

Tricot Knit — Made to stretch in width, with parallel yarns interlocked. Originally used in lingerie, now available in many fabrics and articles of clothing.

Soil-Release — Fabric treated to help loosen dirt and grease during washing.

But when it comes to ground-in dirt and pesky stains such as blood, chocolate, grease, collar grime, mustard or grape juice, even the soil-release fabrics often need help.

An aerosol spray-on pre-laundry cleaner, such as Magic Pre-Wash, is specially designed to loosen dirt and stains in all washable fabrics, including permanent press, cottons, woolsens, blends, synthetics and silks. Magic can be used with all types of detergents, including non-phosphate products, with or without bleach and at all wash temperatures.

A non-phosphate, non-enzyme cleaner, it does away with lengthy presoaking. Stains simply are sprayed until saturated, then left for a minute or two prior to laundering as usual. Selective spraying also means greater economy over the presoak products.

Enjoy the new "miracle" fabrics. But remember, even a miracle requires an occasional boost.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Photographing Your Catch

If you like to photograph your fish, here are some tips for better pictures of your catch. These tips apply to fresh-water fish and to the small sizes of salt water varieties.

First, dip your stringer of fish up and down in the water a few times, to remove any dirt or grime that may be on them . . . and, to give them that fresh-caught, glossy look.

Then arrange them on the stringer so that the larger fish are "up front" where possible. Also see that they are displayed with their backs or sides toward the camera. Needless to say, the all-white underbody doesn't make an impressive photo.

If you want to be different with your pictures, spread the fish out (still on the stringer) across the side of a boat, with you or your fishing buddy seated in the boat directly behind the stringers and holding the largest bass by its lower lip . . . or better yet with one hand under its body to "display" it in a horizontal position.

Some anglers hold the fish far forward, with arms outstretched toward the camera. This makes the fish look larger than it actually is . . . especially if the camera is focused on the angler rather than the fish.

We don't recommend such a photo. In the first place the catch is magnified beyond reason and it is not a true and honest picture. To hold the fish in front of you, depicting the angler admiring his catch is one thing, but to hold the fish at arms length directly in front of you solely to exaggerate its size is misrepresentation.

A direct give-away as to what was done is evident to any experienced photographer simply by observing the jumbo, unnatural size of the fingers and hands of the person holding the fish.

An easier way to photograph your catch is to spread them out before you on the dock, and either kneel down or be seated behind or beside the catch. It will improve interest if you lift the largest fish slightly to better display its size. That may be emphasizing but it's not exaggerating.

Another method, if you have a sizeable number of fish on the stringer, is to take a back-view-shot of the angler with the stringer tossed over his shoulder and the entire catch dangling behind him. Emphasis here is that the successful angler has a heavy load—or is seen trudging homeward bringing in food for the family.

This of course means getting the back of the shirt or coat wet and giving it a "fishy" smell, but that problem can be solved by wearing a raincoat or other rainy-weather gear for the picture session.

There are other ways to be different too. For instance, show the successful fisherman hanging the stringer of fish on a nail, or tying it to a tree limb.

Steps always make good "props" for fish photos . . . with the angler shown admiring them. Ditto for gang-planks. In fact, there are all kinds of appropriate backgrounds if you'll just look around.

And it adds much to your photography—to be different.

AUSTIN — Rewriting the nearly-century-old Texas constitution is turning out to be stickier job than many figured.

The Constitutional Revision Commission went into overtime at a recent three-day meeting near here, but still failed to complete its agenda and slated another August 10-11 cleanup meeting.

Meanwhile, legislative planners for the 1974 Constitutional Convention, at which lawmakers will actually propose a revised constitution, disagreed on routine stage-setting.

House members suggested a new voting machine (which was later ordered) and new desks for delegates. Senate planning committee spokesmen indicated they would be satisfied to bring their own desks over from across the capitol rotunda and set them up in the House middle aisle.

The revision panel agreed: To keep the provision for real property taxation in the constitution for state purposes, but leave it to the legislature to write separate laws governing personal property taxation.

To retain the state highway users gasoline tax, with three-fourths of the revenue earmarked for highway building and one-fourth for public schools. A provision was made for abolishing the highway fund levy on statewide referendum with support of two-thirds of the legislature.

To keep the Permanent University Fund and Permanent School funds in the constitution. The university fund would be altered somewhat to include present and future branches of the University of Texas and Texas A&M University.

To add to the constitution a guarantee of "equitable" financial support for all schools and districts rich and poor.

To retain as constitutional elected members of the executive branch only the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general, with the legislature empowered to decide if the comptroller, treasurer, secretary of state, land commissioner and railroad commission should be elected or appointed by the governor.

"HOUSES" CLOSED — Two landmark bawdy houses — in La Grange and Sealy — were closed by local officials on request of state officials.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir sought action after reports aired by a Houston television station.

Briscoe acknowledged he had received calls from La Grange area citizens both supporting and opposing the action. He said he had been told he would be petitioned by a group who want the famed "Chicken Ranch" reopened.

Hill and Speir said they found no link with organized crime in operation of the houses, but Attorney General Hill added: "It is an illegal operation. The local officials were requested to take action. They took it."

RATE RAISE EXPECTED — An increase in some workmen's compensation insurance rates is due under a new law increasing benefits for those injured or killed in job accidents.

An average 19.5 percent hike in the rates employers must pay for the coverage is anticipated under a State Insurance Board staff proposal, which would become effective if approved between September 1 and September 15.

Rates would have gone up 22.8 percent in the absence of the federal anti-inflation program, a Board actuary indicated.

Under new law effective September, an injured worker can get up to a maximum of $63 a week in benefits, an increase from the present $49 top.

AG OPINIONS — A national bank does not come under definition of governmental bodies or institutions which are required to comply with the new open records act, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A Laredo fireman injured in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, while on duty is entitled to benefits under the state Firemen's Relief and Retirement Law.

State government branches and their services (excepting political subdivisions but including hospitals and colleges) are covered under the Texas Unemployment Act.

School trustees are authorized to purchase insurance to cover cost of litigation and award of damages growing out of official acts.

The Amusement Machine Commission has power to promulgate regulations to cover the number of machines owned by the holder of a permit to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption.

Qualifications for Texas Air Control Board membership are set by Article 447.5, Vernon's Civil Statutes. Conduct in office will be governed in part after January 1 by provisions of the 1973 ethics law, and members could be removed from office for violations.

The State Commission for the Blind is not authorized to require employees to deposit with it salary warrants issued to them or to charge a fee to employees for making the advances.

Another Aspermont youth, Richard Lyn Anderson, 17, died about 4:15 p.m. Monday in Knox City hospital from injuries in the accident.
